Representative Ganaden rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides education, and more than that, a plan for women who are reentering society after serving their time in incarceration. Many of us on the CMV Committee were shocked by how unprepared many of these individuals leave incarceration without plans. They are released back into society with very little skills or capacity, despite years of incarceration and missed opportunities.

"We were also surprised this year by the lobbying efforts of the Women's Prison Project, a coalition that spans multiple sectors and is across party lines. I was pleasantly surprised in how much I agreed with former Republican Governor Linda Lingle that we need to effectuate significant criminal justice change here and across America. Just years ago, versions of the corrections committee was all about enhancing sentencing. Now, the conversation has changed to reduce incarceration, to rehabilitate community members, and to support victims.

"If we pass this and the other measures that are before us, about half a dozen of them, we will be making a significant change here in the State of Hawaii. We are all very close to the justice system. Addiction, poor decisions can affect all of us or all of our families. This measure shows our shared humanity across multiple sectors, across party lines. Thank you so much. I think that we should pass it and pass the other bills that are associated with it for future generations. Thank you so much."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, a very brief comment. Mr. Speaker, the issue of exempting people from public bidding, particularly parking lots, seems to be probably a not very good excuse to do this. And this says that if you have a parking lot at the airport or at the beach fronts or wherever the areas that are not manned by our employees, should be exempt. I think that's going a little bit too far. I know they need the money, but the way that they're going about this really suggests too much leeway for an exemption. To have an exemption, you should have a higher level and a higher standard than what this bill says. Thank you."

Representative Kapela rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. DOBOR has shown us time and again that they don't do an adequate job consulting with stakeholders and have just created strife in communities when we give them more autonomy to make changes to parking situations. So, if this is intended for the Ala Wai Harbor, maybe it should be narrowed down to that. But until I better understand how that could affect all the other small boat harbors in the state, I have to vote no."
