HB 114, HD3

RELATING TO HIGHER EDUCATION.

Chair Taniguchi, Chair Dela Cruz, Vice-Chair Kahele, Vice-Chair Slom, and committee members, thank you for the opportunity to testify on HB 114, HD3. The State Procurement Office (SPO) testimony is limited to Part II, which redirects the University of Hawaii (UH) chief procurement officer (CPO) authority to the State Procurement Office (SPO) CPO, limited to construction contracts and professional services furnished by licensees under chapter 464, including construction management.

The SPO plans, organizes, directs, and coordinates various activities to assist all state and county governmental bodies statewide, to meet compliance with the Hawaii Public Procurement Code (Code), HRS chapter 103D, and Purchases of Health and Human Services, HRS chapter 103F. For further information on SPO activities, including a summary of SPO's mission and goals, view the SPO Executive Overview at the SPO homepage <http://hawaii.gov/spo>.

To meet compliance, SPO assistance is provided in the form of:

- Consultation and advice on any procurement issues specific to a requesting agency;
- Issuance of Procurement Circulars that provide guidance and requirements, are available at <http://spo3.hawaii.gov/circulars/circulars>;
- Availability of extensive statewide procurement training, including related trainings such as Understanding, Detecting and Preventing Anti-Trust Violations, Overview of Property Loss, Auto Accident and Tort Claims, to ensure personnel have the knowledge and tools (forms, sample templates, etc.) to conduct procurements. Training information is available at <http://hawaii.gov/spo/training/training-for-state-and-county-personnel>;
- Availability of SPO Price or Vendor List Contracts that SPO has conducted the procurement or issued in accordance with cooperative purchasing statutes. Contracts are available at <http://spo3.hawaii.gov/pvl/price-vendor-lists>.

For executive branch departments, which the SPO Administrator serves as the CPO, various processes are in place such as:

- Issuance of written procurement delegation to each department head ensures clarity of responsibilities. Current delegation information is available at <http://hawaii.gov/spo/state-county-personnel-manual/procurement-delegation/procurement-delegation-authority>;
- Direct oversight on specific areas such as appropriate use of emergency procurement, sole source, and exemptions; and includes contract extensions, restrictive specifications which require CPO approval. Requests for CPO approvals may be viewed at <http://hawaii.gov/spo2/source/>.

If the legislature determines the UH is in need of SPO's oversight, we will incorporate this additional responsibility into current operations. SECTION 3 should be deleted in its entirety, it is not needed. No amendments are needed to section 304A-105 due to the amendments in the prior SECTION 2. The UH shall continue to develop and be in control of internal policies and procedures for the procurement of goods, services, and construction. SPO procurement oversight responsibilities for construction and related professional services will not impact UH's internal processes.

HB114, HD3, Testimony
Senate Committees on Higher Education and Economic Development,
Government Operations and Housing

As currently in place for executive branch departments, the UH would be delegated the authority to continue to conduct its construction and professional services procurements, with the SPO providing similar oversight to the UH procurements. The SPO would not interfere or be involved with UH's ability to decide on their priorities, or to execute and administer the procurement of construction contracts for the UH. The authority and responsibility of the UH administration and the Board of Regents would remain the same in allocating funding and directing resources necessary to ensure the timely procurement of construction contracts, however, the procurement processes will be under the purview of the SPO to ensure compliance with the Code.

UH and the Board of Regents shall remain responsible in identifying what to procure, and why they should procure. SPO's involvement will be in how the procurement is conducted, and providing oversight to assure compliance with the Hawaii Public Procurement Code.

Thank you.

HB 114 HD3 (Part II) – RELATING TO HIGHER EDUCATION

Chairs Taniguchi and Dela Cruz, Vice Chairs Kahele and Slom, and members of the committees:

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in opposition to this measure.

HB 114 HD3 Part II proposes repealing the President of the University of Hawaii's authority to serve as the chief procurement officer for construction contracts and professional services related to construction contracts for the University of Hawai'i and requires the state administrator of the state procurement office of the department of accounting and general services to serve as the chief procurement officer for such contracts.

This bill proposes to amend Section 103D-203 of the state procurement code which currently appoints separate chief procurement officers for the University of Hawai'i and other semi-autonomous entities in the state such as the Department of Education, the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation, county boards or departments of water supply and public transit agency, as well the Senate, the House of Representatives, the Judiciary, the Office of Hawaiian affairs and the executive and legislative branches of the counties. This measure would remove the authority for procuring construction contracts and professional services related to construction contracts only from the University of Hawai'i.

This would mean that the ability to prioritize, execute and administer the procurement of construction contracts and professional services related to construction contracts for the University would no longer be within the authority and responsibility of the Board of Regents and the University's administration. The University would no longer have the ability to direct resources necessary to ensure the timely procurement of construction contracts and professional services related to construction contracts.

Currently, the University has $206 million in major construction underway, $229 million of major projects soon to be procured and $187 million of health, safety, code, and repairs and maintenance projects in various stages of design and construction, for a total in excess of $622 million. We are concerned that removing the University's authority to procure its own construction projects will adversely impact the upcoming procurement of these construction projects. The University is operating in compliance with the procurement code and has demonstrated that it is quite capable of expeditiously procuring its own construction projects. Accordingly, we do not see the need or benefit for this amendment to the procurement code which would differentiate the University from other entities with separate chief procurement officers and authority.

If this measure is a result of concern over the limited flexibility the University previously had in procurement, which was sunset on June 30, 2012, we provide the following information:

The Legislature, through Act 82, SLH 2010, provided the University of Hawai'i flexibility from certain requirements of the Hawai'i Public Procurement Code (HRS Chapter 103D), effective as of July 1, 2010. The intent of providing this limited flexibility to the University was to allow it to pilot innovative procedures to expedite procurement of goods and services, especially construction services while maintaining fairness and transparency. It was intended to aid the economy while helping the University with its capital improvement needs at a time when costs were low and financing favorable. And the procurement processes piloted by the University could be adopted in the future by the legislature for other state agencies.

Since Act 82 only provided the limited flexibility to the University from July 1, 2010 through June 30, 2012, University administration proposed initial revisions to its procurement procedures to be effective July 1, 2010 on an interim basis while further revised processes were being developed for piloting. These initial revisions were approved by the Board of Regents at its meeting of June 28, 2010.

Following that meeting, the President of the University appointed a Procurement Task Group to review the interim procedures and develop further revised procedures for recommendation to the Board of Regents. Members of this Task Group included two members of the Board of Regents, the executive vice president of the General Contractors Association of Hawai'i, a representative of the American Council of Engineering Companies of Hawai'i, and two construction managers, one from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and one from the State of Hawai'i Department of Education. After several meetings during which discussions focused on expediting construction projects while maintaining fairness and transparency, the Task Group recommended further revisions to the procedures for the procurement of construction. They proposed three new alternative procedures for qualification-based construction procurement in addition to the revisions previously approved by the Board. These additional revisions were approved by the Board of Regents at its meeting of September 16, 2010.

Subsequently, numerous outreach presentations on several islands were made to approximately 250 members of the General Contractors Association of Hawai'i, Kaua'i Contractors Association, and Hawai'i Island Contractors Association, the Building Industry Association, the Subcontractors Association of Hawai'i, Construction Managers Association of America, and Painters and Decorating Contractors Association of Hawai'i.

The University's interim procedures for qualifications-based construction procurement may be viewed in their entirety at:

<http://www.hawaii.edu/apis/apm/abol/a8200.201207/proc/A82801.pdf>;

<http://www.hawaii.edu/apis/apm/abol/a8200.201207/proc/A82802.pdf>;

<http://www.hawaii.edu/apis/apm/abol/a8200.201207/proc/A82803.pdf>.

The interim procurement procedures are no longer in effect as the limited flexibility provided by Act 82 ended on June 30, 2012. However, during the two years of the interim construction procurement procedures, the University successfully procured 21 projects system wide for a total construction cost of $192 million.

Even with this limited implementation timeframe, this limited flexibility allowed the University to pilot innovative procedures to expedite procurement of goods and services, especially construction services while maintaining fairness and transparency. The University also believes that these construction projects aided the economy while helping the University with its capital improvement needs at a time when costs were low and financing was favorable. Furthermore, the University feels the pilot was successful and processes piloted were appropriate and effective, and hopes that they may be adopted in the future by the legislature for other state agencies.

In conclusion, while we believe the pilot allowed by Act 82, SLH 2010 was successful, the legislation has ended and the University has been operating in compliance with the state procurement code since July 1, 2012. Accordingly, we do not see the need or benefit for this amendment to the procurement code which would differentiate the University from other entities with separate chief procurement officers and authority. This would mean that the ability to prioritize, execute and administer the procurement of construction contracts for the University would no longer be within the authority and responsibility of the Board of Regents and the University's administration. The University would no longer have the ability to direct resources necessary to ensure the timely procurement of construction contracts.

The University is cognizant of the allegations made by Mr. Dennis Mitsunaga in his testimony on SB 1383 and is in the process of performing a full investigation of his allegations. We do not believe that changes to statute differentiating the University from other state entities should be made based on at this point unsubstantiated allegations against an individual.

For these reasons the University is in opposition to this bill. Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this measure.

HB 114 HD3 (Part III) -- RELATING TO HIGHER EDUCATION

Chairs Taniguchi and Dela Cruz, Vice Chairs Kahele and Slom, and members of the committees:

Thank you for the opportunity to present testimony on HB 114 HD3 – Relating to Higher Education. This testimony pertains to Part III of HB 114 HD3 with respect to the establishment of an Independent Audit Committee of the University of Hawai'i (University). The purpose of this testimony is to provide information to the Senate Committee on Higher Education and the Senate Committee on Economic Development, Government Operations and Housing regarding the policies and practices of the Board of Regents (BOR) Committee on University Audits (Audit Committee) and the University's Office of Internal Audit (Internal Audit). As further discussed below and illustrated on the attached matrix (Attachment A), existing BOR Bylaws and Charters (Audit Committee and Internal Audit) address much of the proposed legislation noted in Part III of HB No. 114 HD3.

In addition, Article II, Section D(2)(g) of the Bylaws of the BOR of the University of Hawai'i (BOR Bylaws) establishes an Audit Committee. This section of the BOR Bylaws (Attachment B) coupled with the Charter of the Committee on University Audits (Attachment C) documents the function and responsibilities of the Audit Committee. Internal Audit reports directly to the Audit Committee and is thus independent of University management. The Charter of the Office of Internal Audit is included as Attachment D. Annually, Internal Audit prepares an Audit Plan that is submitted to the Audit Committee for review and approval. The Audit Plan's projects (internal as well as external audit) result from consultation with the Audit Committee, Accuity, LLP (external auditor) and University Management. All audit reports prepared by Internal Audit are forwarded to the Audit Committee for review and comment. Report acceptance occurs at Audit Committee meetings held pursuant to the provisions of Hawai'i Revised Statute Chapter 92.

Also, I would like to bring to your Committee's attention the comments provided in the last column on page 7 of Attachment A with respect to Section 4.(n) of HB 114 HD3 regarding the Audit Committee's review of complaints. The "comments" are provided for consideration by the Senate Committee on Higher Education and the Senate Committee on Economic Development, Government Operations and Housing and are intended to strengthen the Audit Committee's effectiveness in managing complaints.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony on this measure.
