LATE TESTIMONY

I would like to add my testimony to that of others you have received. The bill to clarify what constitutes a service dog and their mission is way over do. The other animals that have been called a service animal have created problems for the people with disabilities who have in fact a certified trained service dog who assists with their daily living tasks, They have had a hard time with the public and businesses who need to be educated about the real aid and assistance the receive with their canine partner. There are therapy dogs and other animals but they do not provider daily living services to their human partner. Thank You Sandra Meehan
