A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO NATIVE HAWAIIANS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that, over the past two 2 hundred years, Hawaii has experienced extensive changes. These 3 changes include the deterioration of the Hawaiian culture,
4 language, values, and land tenure system, which have in part 5 resulted in the over-development of the coastline, alteration of 6 fresh water streams, destruction of life-giving watersheds,
7 decimation of the coral reefs, and the decline of endemic marine
8 and terrestrial species.

9 Native Hawaiian culture has knowledge that has been passed 10 on for generations and is still practiced for the purpose of 11 perpetuating traditional protocols, caring for and protecting 12 the environment, and strengthening cultural and spiritual
13 connections. It is through the aha moku councils that native 14 Hawaiians protected their environment and sustained the 15 abundance of resources that they depended upon for thousands of 16 years.

17 Currently, many Hawaiian communities are becoming 18 revitalized by using the knowledge of cultural practitioners

HB2806 CD1 HMS 2012-3661-2

1 that was passed down through kupuna, experienced farmers, and 2 fishers to engage and enhance sustainability, subsistence, and 3 self-sufficiency. Furthermore, many native Hawaiian communities
4 are interested, concerned, involved, willing, and able to advise
5 government agencies, organizations, and other interested groups
6 in integrating traditional knowledge and ahupuaa management 7 practices.

8 The legislature further finds that on August 15 through 17,
9 2006, the Hoochanohano I Na Kupuna Puwalu series began and native
10 Hawaiian cultural and traditional practitioners who are versed
11 in farming and fishing, ocean, and land ahupuaa methods gathered 12 to discuss and bring forth the wisdom of the kupuna and 13 ancestors. It was a gathering of empirical knowledge handed 14 down from generation to generation on traditional fishing, 15 agriculture, streams, fishponds, and land use methodology based 16 on the ahupuaa system.

17 Representatives from forty-three regions (moku) in the 18 State and over one hundred ahupuaa Hawaiian cultural 19 practitioners, including kupuna and the acknowledged traditional 20 experts, joined together to come forth with their manao and 21 concerns.

1           The conclusion of Puwalu Ekahi called for the creation of a 2 resolution calling on native Hawaiians to begin a process to 3 uphold and continue Hawaiian traditional land and ocean
4 practices. Perpetuating and preserving the knowledge of the 5 practitioners through the continuation of konohiki management,
6 the kapu system, and the creation of an aha moku and the ahupuaa
7 management system was the consensus of Puwalu Ekahi.

8           On November 8 and 9, 2006, Puwalu Elua brought together 9 educators, administrators, cultural practitioners, and kupuna to 10 discuss the values and the spiritual connection between natural 11 resources and native Hawaiians; the ahupuaa concept;
12 generational knowledge and learning; the importance of place
13 names and moolelo; seasonal closures and lunar calendars;
14 fishing practices; the Northwestern Hawaiian islands; konohiki
15 connections; marine protected areas; upena (nets); place-based 16 kapu; limu; and puuhonua concepts that could be developed as an 17 educational framework to integrate this knowledge into a
18 curricula for all public, private, charter, and Hawaiian 19 immersion schools in Hawaii.

20           On December 19 and 20, 2006, Puwalu Ekolu brought together 21 major policymakers and stakeholders involved in the protection 22 of the Hawaii ecosystem. Native Hawaiian practitioners and

1 experts in traditional methods of sustainability, government
2 policymakers, including members of the legislature, agency
3 directors, environmental groups, educational leaders, and 4 Hawaiian community organizations, discussed existing programs
5 and their successes and failures in community-building.

6 In conclusion, it was agreed that statutes, ordinances, and 7 a framework for community consultation using the Hawaiian
8 perspective and traditional methods such as the ahupuaa
9 management system are needed, and the aha moku system should be 10 established.

11 Between 2006 and 2010, three more puwalu were convened to 12 gather additional community input on best practices in the area
13 of native Hawaiian resource management. All puwalu were open to 14 the public and included farmers, fishers, environmentalists,
15 educators, organizations and agencies, and governmental 16 representatives who, through discussions on the integration of 17 these practices into regulation and common utilization, came to 18 the consensus of the necessity of integrating the aha moku
19 system into government policy. The information gathered from 20 all puwalu has been compiled into annual comprehensive reports 21 to the legislature as required by Act 212, Session Laws of 22 Hawaii 2007, as amended by Act 39, Session Laws of Hawaii 2009.

1           The purpose of this Act is to formally recognize the aha
2 moku system and to establish the aha moku advisory committee
3 within the department of land and natural resources, which may 4 serve in an advisory capacity to the chairperson of the board of 5 land and natural resources. The aha moku advisory committee may 6 advise on issues related to land and natural resources
7 management through the aha moku system, a system of best
8 practices that is based upon the indigenous resource management 9 practices of moku (regional) boundaries, which acknowledges the 10 natural contours of land, the specific resources located within 11 those areas, and the methodology necessary to sustain resources
12 and the community. The aha moku system will foster
13 understanding and practical use of knowledge, including native
14 Hawaiian methodology and expertise, to assure responsible 15 stewardship and awareness of the interconnections of the clouds,
16 forests, valleys, land, streams, fishponds, and sea. The moku
17 system will include the use of community expertise and establish 18 programs and projects to improve communication, provide training
19 on stewardship issues throughout the region (moku), and increase 20 education. The establishment of this committee does not 21 preclude any person's or organization's right to provide advice
22 to the department of land and natural resources.

1 SECTION 2. Chapter 171, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 2 amended by adding a new section to be appropriately designated

5 report shall include a list of all recommendations made by the 6 committee and the resulting action taken by the department over 7 the course of the prior year."

8       SECTION 3. There is appropriated out the general revenues
9 of the State of Hawaii the sum of $76,500 or so much thereof as 10 may be necessary for fiscal year 2012-2013 for the 11 administrative costs related to carrying out the duties of the 12 aha moku advisory committee.
