RELATING TO A LAW ENFORCEMENT STANDARDS BOARD.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

SECTION 1. It is the role of the State to oversee and regulate professions and occupations that have a significant impact on society. Law enforcement is an area where more should be done by the State to provide standards and uniformity statewide, as the State did recently through a law to regulate private security guards.

Given the immense authority that the State and counties grant to police, sheriffs, and other law enforcement officers, including the power to search, arrest, and use deadly force, the State must enact a law that certifies law enforcement officers to ensure the highest standards of professionalism and uniformity of standards throughout our islands.

Hawaii is the only state in the country without any state-level regulation of police. Regulation is left to the counties. Furthermore, Hawaii does not have any procedure for revoking a police officer's certification for serious misconduct.
The purpose of this Act is to establish a law enforcement standards board for the certification of county police officers, state public safety officers, and employees at the departments of transportation, public safety, and land and natural resources with police powers.

SECTION 2. The Hawaii Revised Statutes is amended by adding a new chapter to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

"CHAPTER

Any findings and information may be shared with the appropriate county or state commission, board, or agency.

§ -4 Law enforcement standards board special fund; established. There is established in the state treasury the law enforcement standards board special fund. The revenues of the special fund shall consist of appropriations made by the legislature, fees charged by the board, grants, gifts, and interest on moneys deposited in the special fund. (b) This section shall not apply to a person employed on a probationary basis, except that employment on a probationary basis may not exceed the period authorized for probationary employment as determined by the board.

(c) Beginning December 31, 2017, existing law enforcement officers shall have two years to obtain a valid certificate issued by the board under section -6. In-service training shall be used to meet the law enforcement training requirements established under section -6."
