Aloha Harvest requests $100,000 for the public purpose of rescuing excess quality food from entering the waste stream, and delivering this food to nonprofits that feed homeless and low income individuals across Oahu. In this work, Aloha Harvest also reduces the load on the waste management system, improves the efficiency of the local food supply, reduces dependence on imported food, practices good stewardship of our environment, and feeds the hungry.

II. Background and Summary

This section shall clearly and concisely summarize and highlight the contents of the request in such a way as to provide the State Legislature with a broad understanding of the request. Please include the following:

1. A brief description of the applicant's background;

Aloha Harvest, founded in 1999, is the sole food rescue organization in the state. Our mission is to “rescue and deliver quality, excess food to help feed the needy, hungry and homeless on O‘ahu.” Last year, Aloha Harvest rescued 1,681,775 lbs. of quality food from entering the waste stream to feed approximately 57,000 low income and homeless individuals. This was achieved by working with 277 organizations and 166 social service agencies and churches in the largest and most successful collaboration between the business and nonprofit sectors in the State of Hawai‘i.

As a food rescue organization, we play a critical role alongside food banks and food pantries, in the fight against hunger. Our rescue food operation fills a critical and unique need in the state, and differs in significant ways from food bank and food pantry operations:

- Facilities - Food bank organizations have warehouse facilities where nonprofit agencies “shop” for food. Aloha Harvest does not have a warehouse. We have three refrigerated vehicles that pickup and deliver food on the same day. No food storage is used.
- Food in damaged packaging - Food bank organizations are prohibited from distributing food in damaged packaging, a policy of Feeding America, the umbrella organization for food bank organizations across the nation. Aloha Harvest, and other food rescue organizations accept a large volume of donated food in damaged packaging from Whole Foods, Kraft, Costco and other wholesalers.
- Free of charge - Food banks both purchase and received donated non-perishable food, and charge a nominal fee per pound to nonprofit organizations. Aloha Harvest does not purchase any food, and all rescued food is donated and delivered free of charge to nonprofit agencies that feed the hungry. This helps nonprofits to “stretch” their budgets in their work to serve the needy.

The agencies we work with have a wide range of needs: those with food pantries, like Helping Hands Hawai‘i and Windward United Church of Christ, request only nonperishable foods; many serve hot meals, like the Institute for Human Services and Child and Family Services, and request prepared food only; some agencies serve less than ten needy individuals at a time, like Women in Need and Mental Health Kokua; and other agencies serve thousands, like Sacred Heart Outreach and Ohana, Family of the Living God.

In the past year, several large businesses began contributing food to Aloha Harvest, including Costco, Foodland, and HMS Foods. These organizations have begun donating pallets of food daily, and this has resulted in a critical need to expand our capacity. In the 4th quarter alone, Costco and Foodland contributed 127,485 lbs. of food. We anticipate that over the next year, this demand will continue to grow.

2. The goals and objectives related to the request;

The goal of this project is to rescue quality excess food from restaurants, businesses, schools, and nonprofits, and deliver this food to nonprofit social service providers that feed the hungry. This food will benefit over 57,000 needy individuals.

Objective 1 - Pickup quality food from 277 businesses. This will reduce food waste and make more efficient use of the limited local food supply. We will continuously recruit new food donors to join our food rescue operations to maintain a robust community of food donors. (We also anticipate a number of food donors will close business or discontinue donating.)

Objective 2 - Deliver the rescue food to 166 nonprofits that serve individuals in need. Our collaborating nonprofit partners will serve the rescued food to approximately 57,000 individuals in the year.

Objective 3 - We will rescue food, approximately 1.9 million lbs. to feed the hungry. This will also reduce the burden of waste on the environment and make more efficient use of our local food supply.

3. The public purpose and need to be served;

Our work not only helps to feed the hungry, it also improves the efficient use of the local food supply, reduces the dependence of the state on imported food, and reduces the load on the waste management system.

Feed the hungry. There are almost 5,000 homeless individuals on O‘ahu, and over 170,000¹ that live at less than 200% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL). As a result, 13% of O‘ahu residents are food insecure: they lack a regular and socially acceptable source of nutritious food,² and one in five relies on a food bank for assistance.³

Reduce dependence on imported food and improve efficiency of the local food supply. Hawai‘i imports 85%-90% of its food. This heavy dependence on imported food not only leaves the state vulnerable to disruptions to the shipping industry, the cost of transportation and shipping also drives up the cost of food, which in turn increases the cost of living for all Hawai‘i residents.

Decrease food waste, alleviate the load on the waste management system. Alongside the dependence on imported food, an estimated 237,122 tons of food, or 26%, of the local food supply is thrown away.³ Approximately 20,000 tons of this food is processed by H-Power each year. Wet food waste takes additional energy to process, reducing the efficiency of H-Power.⁵

The majority of excess food is diverted to Waimanalo Gulch, the only landfill on O‘ahu that accepts Municipal Solid Waste. Buried food sent to the landfill rots under anaerobic conditions, producing methane, a greenhouse gas that is 25% more potent than carbon dioxide.⁶

Waimanalo Gulch has a projected capacity of only 15 more years, and Honolulu County is actively considering 11 other sites. Unlike mainland states that have vast, wide open spaces to expand or create new landfills away from populated areas, Hawai‘i has limited options. No community is willing to host a new landfill.⁷ Aloha Harvest works to reduce the food waste processed by H-Power and Waimanalo Gulch by 1,000 tons annually.

Food rescue is an effective strategy to feed the hungry, improve efficiency of the local food supply, and decrease food waste. The Honolulu City Council recognizes these challenges and the value of food rescue. City and County Honolulu Revised Ordinance, Chapter 9, Section 9-3.5, requires large hotels, restaurants, grocery stores, hospitals, food courts, and food processors recycle their excess food. Although this ordinance, effective January 1, 1997, is not enforced, food rescue is promoted by the US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), US Dept. Agriculture (USDA), and the Honolulu County, Dept. of Environmental Services (DES). Both the DES and EPA refer businesses to Aloha Harvest for food recycling services on their websites⁴, even though Aloha Harvest does not receive any ongoing, reliable support from the federal, Hawaii State, or Honolulu County governments.

4. Describe the target population to be served; and

Low income and homeless. The food rescued by Aloha Harvest serves low income and homeless residents in need of support. Our collaborating agencies reported that the food rescued in the last fiscal year provided meals and groceries for approximately 57,000 individuals each month with these demographics:

- 65% challenged with mental illness, substance abuse or disabilities;
- 62% Native Hawaiians and Pacific Islanders;
- 20% children, 13% seniors;
- 44% homeless; and
- 25% unemployed.

The needy population is growing: while homelessness across the nation is on the decline,⁴ the state has experienced a steady increase, evident in every community across O‘ahu, where “tent cities” are set up along sidewalks, public parks, and encroaching on previously safe neighborhoods and community spaces. Today Hawai‘i has the highest per capita rate of homelessness in the country.⁵ By all measures, the need for food to feed the hungry in Honolulu is increasing, as is the need to improve the efficiency of our local food supply and efficiency of our waste management system.

Donor businesses. We assist food wholesalers, retailers, and food preparation businesses to manage their excess food, reducing their disposal costs. At the end of each year, we provide each food donor with a receipt of the lbs. they donated, and a calculation of the tax-deductible value of their food donation, as determined by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The largest groups of food donors are distributors (55%), and grocery stores (16%). In 2018, food donors by type and the total lbs. contributed are summarized on the chart below:

Type	Number	Pounds
Distributor	35	921,980
Grocery	27	269,070
Quick Serve Restaurants	61	126,370

The volume of quality food contributed some of our donors is considerable: In 2018, the top ten food donors that contributed are listed in the table below:

Coca Cola Bottling Of Hawai'i	161,265

Agencies. By providing quality perishable and non-perishable food, free of charge, to nonprofit social service agencies and churches, Aloha Harvest enables them to stretch their budgets to do “more with less.” The non-profits we work with include a wide range of service providers. The following are a few of the nonprofits, the year we began providing them with food donations, and the estimated number of duplicated needy and vulnerable individuals they serve each month.

- 41 food pantry and hot meal programs, including: Institute for Human Services (Since 1999, 400 low income/homeless per year); Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center (Since 2001, 750 low income/homeless per year); Kokua Kalihi Valley Health Center (Since 2006, 400 public housing residents and low income elderly per year).
- 19 food pantries, including: St. Jude’s Catholic Church (Since 2000, 6,547 low income/homeless per year); First Presbyterian Church of Honolulu (Since 2010, 100 low income/homeless per year).
- 51 shelters (transitional, public housing, mental illness) including: Honolulu Habitat for Humanity (Since 2013, 1,098 per year); Salvation Army 22nd Avenue (Since 2004, 306 residents per year); Po’ailani (Since 2011, 36 mentally ill dual diagnosis residents per year). United States Veterans Initiative (Since 2002, 327 transitional shelter residents per year).
- 28 at-risk youth programs, including: Palama Settlement (Since 2010, 300 youth per year), Hale Kipa Youth Outreach (Since 1999, 1,250 sheltered residents per year); Ka Pa’alana Program (Since 2010, 850 low income children/family members per year)
- 17 other social service programs for vulnerable individuals, including: Ohia Center for Women and Children of Domestic Abuse (Since 2003, 36 women and children per month); PACT Economic Development Center at Kuhio Park Terrace and Waianae (Since 2015, 2,995 per year).

All Hawai’i residents. By decreasing the load on the waste management system and improving the efficiency of the local food supply, we benefit all residents in the State of Hawai’i. Our heavy dependence on the importing food drives up the cost of living; the additional resources required to process food, that has a high moisture content, increases the cost of our local waste management system; and food waste sent to landfill is detrimental to our environment.

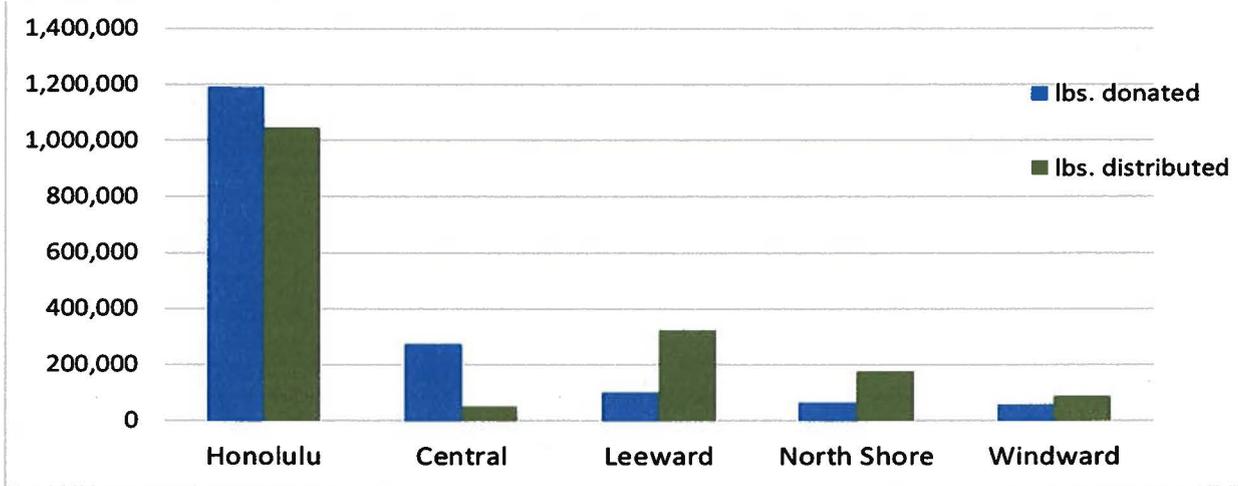

5. Describe the geographic coverage.

Aloha Harvest serves the island of O’ahu. The geographic profile food rescued and delivered is as follows:

Agencies that feed the hungry. A majority of the food rescued was delivered to agencies in urban Honolulu and the Leeward Coast: Honolulu (62.1%), Waianae/Leeward (19.1%), Windward (5.3%), Central (6%), and North Shore (4%).

Businesses that donate food. The food rescued came from donors across a different geographic profile, with the majority of donations coming from the urban Honolulu (70.8%), Central (16.1%), Waianae/Leeward (6%), North Shore (3.8%), and Windward (3.3%).

Service to communities across Oahu

The graph above illustrates the pattern of distribution of food: Aloha Harvest is picking up food in areas where businesses are located, and transporting the food to areas where there are populations of low income residents in need of support. Last year almost 90% of food was donated from organizations located in Urban Honolulu and Central Oahu. In the communities of Waianae, Leeward, and Windward, the majority of food distributed to nonprofits must be transported in from other areas of the island.

See the attached lists of nonprofit partners and food donors in calendar year 2018.

III. Service Summary and Outcomes

The Service Summary shall include a detailed discussion of the applicant's approach to the request. The applicant shall clearly and concisely specify the results, outcomes, and measures of effectiveness from this request. The applicant shall:

1. Describe the scope of work, tasks and responsibilities;

Scope of work - In this project, Aloha Harvest will rescue over 1.9 million lbs. of food from 277 food donors, and deliver this food to 166 nonprofit social service agencies that feed the hungry. It is estimated that 57,000 needy individuals will benefit from the rescued food.

Tasks and responsibilities - The following table details the roles and responsibilities of each staff member:

Position	Tasks
Executive Director	Oversee operations and human resources; ensures the project goals and objectives are met as planned, on a timely basis; and reports are filed as required to the State of Hawai'i and other funders.
Administrative Assistant	Provides support to the Executive Director, supports administrative office operations.
Coordinator	Coordinates the pickups and deliveries with the food donors, nonprofit agencies, and drivers; assists with "staging" or the redistribution of large volumes of food to smaller quantities; develops the daily route; and tracks and summarizes the food pickup and delivery data for reporting.
Driver	Manages pickups and deliveries of food; enters data on food rescue into the tracking software system.
Driver's Assistant	Assists the drivers.

2. Provide a projected annual timeline for accomplishing the results or outcomes of the service;

Food rescue operations are ongoing, and will be conducted throughout the project year. Pickups and deliveries are made week days, and when funding and staff are available, pickups are made after hours and on weekends. Each of our trucks completes anywhere from 35-45 pickups and 5-15 deliveries a day on weekdays. Between pickups and deliveries, the drivers break down the donations into usable portions for receiving agencies. Administrative staff coordinate donor and agency needs, and dispatch drivers to pick up and drop off locations.

3. Describe its quality assurance and evaluation plans for the request. Specify how the applicant plans to monitor, evaluate, and improve their results; and

Tracking food rescue - Aloha Harvest measures results by tracking:

- 1) The donors that contribute food and the number of lbs. they contribute.
- 2) The agencies that receive food and the lbs. of food we provide them.

We summarize these results into monthly and annual reports. These outputs collectively assist us to track the volume of food we rescue and deliver so that we can assess our cost effectiveness, operational efficiency and productivity. In 2018 we rescued 1,681,775 lbs. of food from 277 food donors, and delivered this food to 166 nonprofits that feed the hungry.

Tracking the number of individuals served - We send out a survey to our nonprofit partners once a year to gather information about the needy populations that benefit from the rescued food. Although this information provides us a measure of individuals served, we have no way of ensuring it is an unduplicated number. Many homeless and low-income individuals access services and food support from multiple agencies. In addition, many agencies do not have reliable unduplicated data about the individuals they serve. A number of nonprofits only track the number of meals served. This is especially true of nonprofits that serve the homeless, as many of these individuals do not have identification, an address, or other way to track the number of times they accessed food support.

Quality assurance and improvement. We conduct an annual survey of our nonprofit partners to: 1) ensure that our services are fulfilling the needs of their agency and the people they serve, 2) confirm that we are providing quality food, in a timely manner, and 3) solicit feedback to improve our services.

Nonprofit Partner – U.S. Vets

US Vets, Executive Director Gladys Peraro (partner agency since 2007, 225 low income individuals served each month): “It is truly an invaluable service Aloha Harvest provides. We don’t have lunch routinely so families with no income or very low income can get food. Aloha Harvest also helps us augment the food pantry we have. Perishable items we immediately distribute on property. We look at the non-perishable items’ expiration date and incorporate some into the emergency supplies we dole out to people that come in. Having emergency supplies is especially important on the Leeward Coast.”

4. List the measure(s) of effectiveness that will be reported to the State agency through which grant funds are appropriated (the expending agency). The measure(s) will provide a standard and objective way for the State to assess the program's achievement or accomplishment. Please note that if the level of appropriation differs from the amount included in this application that the measure(s) of effectiveness will need to be updated and transmitted to the expending agency.

Objective 1 - Pickup quality food from 277 businesses.

The drivers and coordinator will log the food donor, volume of food donated, and number of pickups made to rescue food. They will use a software system specifically designed for Aloha Harvest's food rescue operations. The coordinator will enter the daily routes to pickup food from donors into the software system. The drivers will enter the volume of food rescued throughout the day into software system, which is accessed while they are on the road by iPads. The coordinator receives this information in real time, and summarizes this information daily, monthly, and annually.

Objective 2 - Deliver the rescue food to 166 nonprofits that serve individuals in need

The drivers will log the nonprofit organization and volume of food they receive into the software system. The coordinator receives this information in real time, and summarizes this information daily, monthly, and annually.

Objective 3 - We will rescue 1.9 million lbs. of food to feed the hungry.

The coordinator downloads the data regarding the lbs. of food rescued, and summarizes this information daily, monthly, and annually.

Benefit to the needy – As discussed above, we have no reliable way to track the number of needy individuals that benefit from the food we rescue. Our nonprofit agencies provide us an estimate of the number and demographics (homeless, elderly, youth, etc.) of the individuals that benefit from the food donations. We solicit this information from our partnering nonprofit agencies on an annual basis, and do not have any method of determining the unduplicated number of individuals served.

Food Donor – Whole Foods

Whole Foods, Customer Service Manager Thomas Chesebro: "We try to 'save' as much as possible for Aloha Harvest. I love what you do for our communities and the people of Hawai'i. I love the concept of 'rescuing food' so that it is not wasted. And I am amazed at all of the organizations you work with to reach so many families and especially our children of Hawai'i."

6. The applicant shall provide the balance of its unrestricted current assets as of December 31, 2018.

Aloha Harvest's current assets: $184,350.

Food Donor since June 2000 – Marian's Catering

Our donors appreciate participating in our food rescue operations as it helps them to reduce the cost and effort of food disposal, makes good use of their excess food, and many express enthusiastic support for being a part of the effort to feed the hungry. For example, Marian's Catering, a longstanding favorite local caterer since June 2000, contributed 11,710 lbs. of excess Hawaiian, Japanese and other international food leftover from their catered parties last year. "We wanted to address surplus of product," M. Harada Enterprises, Inc. Vice President Scott Harada says simply, "in a safe & beneficial way." The most important aspect of all this, Harada says, "is knowing that repurposing food provides nourishment to folks in need."

V. Experience and Capability

1. Necessary Skills and Experience

The applicant shall demonstrate that it has the necessary skills, abilities, knowledge of, and experience relating to the request. State your experience and appropriateness for providing the service proposed in this application. The applicant shall also provide a listing of verifiable experience of related projects or contracts for the most recent three years that are pertinent to the request.

Aloha Harvest is the sole food rescue organization in the state. Since 1999, Aloha Harvest has rescued over 10,000 tons of food from entering the waste system by facilitating the largest and most successful collaboration between the business and nonprofit sector in the state.

2. Facilities

The applicant shall provide a description of its facilities and demonstrate its adequacy in relation to the request. If facilities are not presently available, describe plans to secure facilities.

Our operations are based in a 355 sq. ft. office in Kaimuki that is ADA compliant, and sufficient for administrative activities. We do not provide direct services, and all food rescue operations are conducted in communities across O'ahu.

We have two 16 ft. refrigerated trucks and a refrigerated transit van that are parked less than a mile away when not in use. No food storage facilities are necessary as all food is picked up and delivered on the same day. In 2016 we were awarded a new electric "smart car" by Aloha United Way and Hawaiian Electric. This car is utilized for site visits, new agency inspections and meetings.

Nonprofit Partner – Hale Kipa

Hale Kipa, Carla Houser, Program Manager (partner agency since 1999, 126 at-risk youth served each month): "We can't do the work we do without our community partners, like Aloha Harvest. It takes a community effort to do the work we do and we are so humbled and grateful for the support we receive. For many of our youth, we are the only meal they get each day. We strive to make it as nutritious and fresh as possible. Aloha Harvest's donations are often the cornerstone of our meal preparation."

VI. Personnel: Project Organization and Staffing

1. Proposed Staffing, Staff Qualifications, Supervision and Training

The applicant shall describe the proposed staffing pattern and proposed service capacity appropriate for the viability of the request. The applicant shall provide the qualifications and experience of personnel for the request and shall describe its ability to supervise, train and provide administrative direction relative to the request.

Aloha Harvest is run by a small and efficient team, which consists of the Executive Director, three administrative staff, and 3 truck drivers/2 helpers. All Aloha Harvest staff are certified in Food Safety by the Hawai'i Department of Health.

The Executive Director, Ku'ulei Williams, has a depth of experience and proven skills to lead the organization. She has been with Aloha Harvest since 2004. Since taking her position as Executive Director in 2008, she has expanded the visibility of the organization through both traditional and social media, improved the efficiency of the operations, diversified funding sources, and more than doubled the volume of food rescued by Aloha Harvest.

Ku'ulei is responsible for directing the day-to-day operations of Aloha Harvest, which includes: meeting with current and prospective food donors, nonprofit agencies and funders; working with the Board of Directors; developing the communications and fundraising plans; and managing the budget. She is responsible for managing these staff positions:

Assistant to the Executive Director is responsible for all aspects of Aloha Harvest office operations, including coordination of drivers and truck maintenance, scheduling, purchasing supplies, and maintain the donor database.

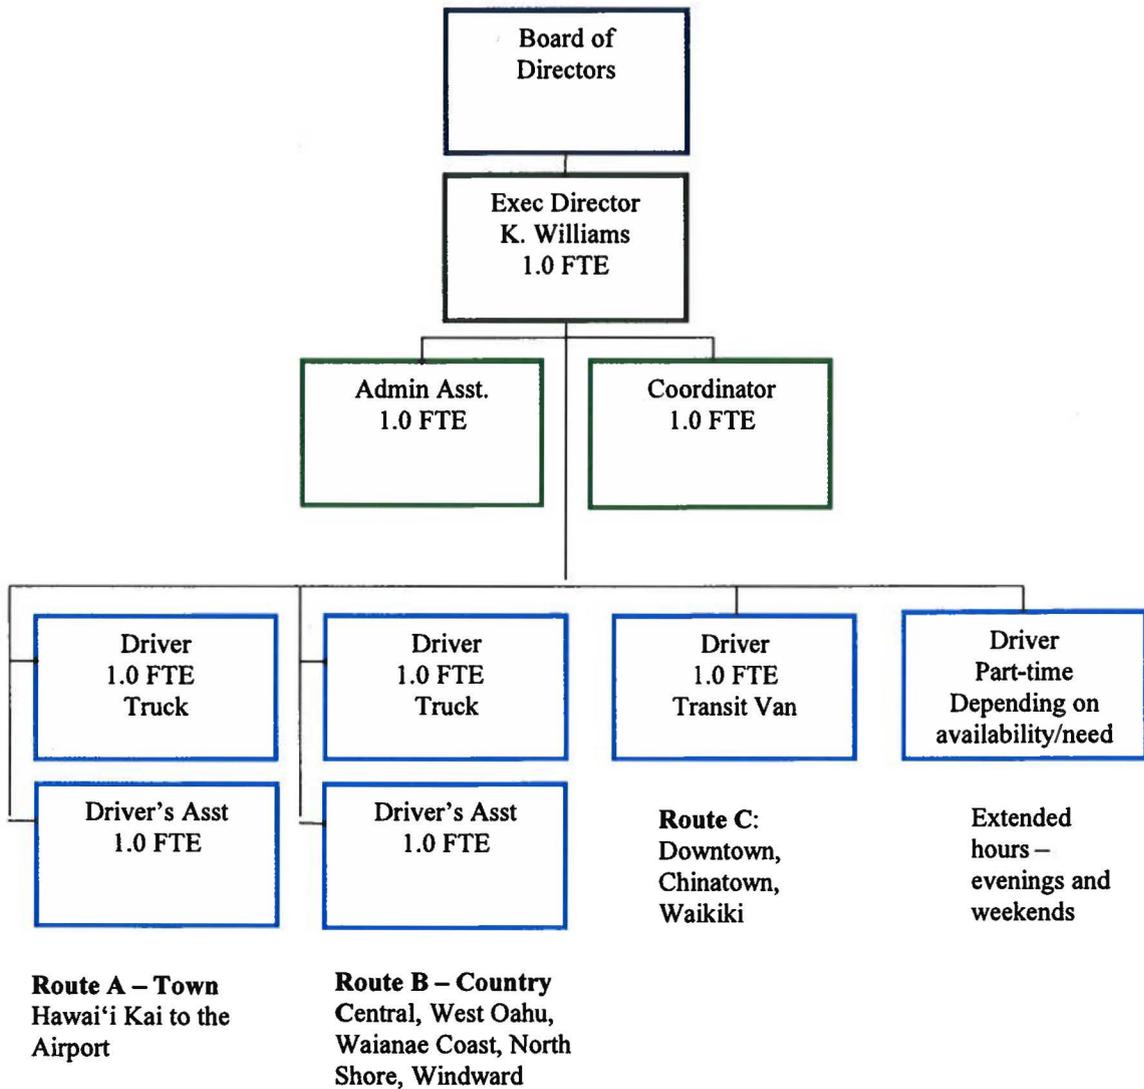

Coordinator, is responsible for all aspects of Aloha Harvest food donations and agency coordination, including data tracking, scheduling, recruiting and managing relationships with partner donors and agencies, and staging (supporting the distribution of food by assisting to break down large food donations into smaller, more manageable amounts appropriate to each agency).

Drivers have CDL or Type 4 licenses, and are responsible for all aspects of food rescue and delivery, including driving, collecting donations from donors, coordinating and scheduling drop-offs, and managing relationships with food donors, businesses, and agencies to meet community needs.

Driver Assistants are responsible for helping with all aspects of food rescue and delivery, including collecting donations from donors, coordinating and scheduling drop-offs, and managing relationships with food donors, businesses, and agencies to meet community needs.

2. Organization Chart

The applicant shall illustrate the position of each staff and line of responsibility/supervision. If the request is part of a large, multi-purpose organization, include an organization chart that illustrates the placement of this request.

3. Compensation

The applicant shall provide an annual salary range paid by the applicant to the three highest paid officers, directors, or employees of the organization by position title, not employee name.

In 2018, the Executive Director received a salary of $84,000 with fringe benefits and taxes.

VII. Other

1. Litigation

The applicant shall disclose any pending litigation to which they are a party, including the disclosure of any outstanding judgement. If applicable, please explain.

Aloha Harvest does not have any pending litigation or outstanding judgments.

2. Licensure or Accreditation

The applicant shall specify any special qualifications, including but not limited to licensure or accreditation that the applicant possesses relevant to this request.

Aloha Harvest is an IRS 501(c)3 nonprofit in good standing.

All Aloha Harvest staff complete the Hawai'i State Department of Health's Food Safety Education Program. Staff that manage the 16 ft. refrigerator trucks are licensed CDL or Type 4 drivers.

3. Private Educational Institutions

The applicant shall specify whether the grant will be used to support or benefit a sectarian or non-sectarian private educational institution. Please see Article X, Section 1, of the State Constitution for the relevance of this question.

Not applicable.

4. Future Sustainability Plan

The applicant shall provide a plan for sustaining after fiscal year 2019-20 the activity funded by the grant if the grant of this application is:

- (a) Received by the applicant for fiscal year 2019-20, but

If funding is received in fiscal year 2019-2020, we anticipate that we will be able to meet or exceed the goals and objectives of this project.

- (b) Not received by the applicant thereafter.

Funding is requested only for fiscal year 2019 – 2020. Aloha Harvest proactively raises funds to support its operations. In the event it is unable to raise sufficient funds, Aloha Harvest will be required to reduce the level of our food rescue operations. As a small nonprofit, every dollar we receive directly impacts our ability to rescue food for the needy, and any shortfall in funds will directly result in a decrease in the lbs. of food rescued, and number of nonprofits and needy individuals that receive food.
