Dear President Kouchi, Speaker Saiki, and Members of the Legislature:

This is to inform you that on June 7, 2019, the following bill was signed into law:

HB999 HD1 SD1 CD1 RELATING TO EXEMPTIONS FROM CIVIL SERVICE.
ACT 081 (19)

Sincerely,

DAVID Y. IGE
Governor, State of Hawai‘i RELATING TO EXEMPTIONS FROM CIVIL SERVICE.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAI'I:

SECTION 1. The department of human services has one of the largest operating budgets of any state department and a staff of more than 2,400 employees deployed statewide. To effectively lead and manage the department's programs and improve service delivery, the department requires a well-experienced and knowledgeable leadership team.

The department serves one in four Hawaii residents through programs and services that include: protection of vulnerable children and adults; vocational rehabilitation and financial assistance to disabled individuals; the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program; financial assistance; job training and placement; housing and support services for individuals and families experiencing homelessness; medicaid services for the State's low income population; and prevention, treatment, and housing and services for the State's youthful offenders and other young adults at risk for homelessness, chronic unemployment, and vulnerable to becoming victims of labor or sex trafficking.

Each program is governed by complex state and federal laws, rules, and regulations. To improve the efficiency and accessibility to these services statewide, the federal and state governments have made significant investments to transform the department's information technology systems from a thirty-plus year old siloed legacy system to an integrated enterprise system. Once completed, the department of human services enterprise system will be capable of determining eligibility for multiple programs, improve timely service delivery, and provide greater program and fiscal oversight.

To capitalize on investments made to the medicaid eligibility system, known as KOLEA, and enable complex analytics of public health insurance medical claims through the all-payer claims data warehouse, in 2018, the legislature established the department's health analytics program in the med-QUEST division. That program will begin to provide analysis of state-funded medical insurance claims that will assist policy makers and program administrators to make necessary adjustments to the coverage of health care in Hawaii.
Improving the department's information technology systems likewise necessitates robust investment in department administrators who have the expertise in design and maintenance of information technology systems, the establishment of security programs to ensure the department has sufficient security protocols and processes, and investment in a workforce that is trained to recognize and respond to potential system breaches and or attempted hacks.

The effective management and transformation of the department into an integrated service delivery system requires department management to lead internal changes and to engage in collaborative efforts with other state and federal agencies, legislative bodies, and other external and community partners. Expertise, experience, foresight, and continuity in leadership are necessary to drive departmental changes to address conditions that give rise to poverty and other public welfare problems.

The department is challenged in attracting and retaining professionals with necessary qualifications to assume the leadership and oversee personnel matters, fiscal and budget issues, information technology development, and operational matters related to quality control, program oversight, and reporting.

Specific issues regarding homelessness in Hawaii also need dedicated and predictable leadership resources. Homelessness in Hawaii is a major social and economic issue that impacts individuals and families, residents and visitors, and businesses and communities. There are multiple causes of homelessness and an effective, coordinated response to homelessness requires a focused, strategic effort by the governor's coordinator on homelessness who has the expertise, ability, authority, and credentials to work with all stakeholders.

The legislature passed Act 79, Session Laws of Hawaii 2016 (Act 79), that exempted from the civil service requirements of chapter 76, Hawaii Revised Statutes, for a period of three calendar years commencing on the effective date of Act 79, the following positions in the Med-QUEST division of the department of human services: the division administrator, finance officer, health care services branch administrator, medical director, and clinical standards administrator. The department seeks to permanently exempt these positions from civil service.
To provide oversight on continued development of the department's enterprise system and address increased security needs of the information technology infrastructure and program integrity, the department seeks to permanently exempt from civil service the following positions in the director's office: enterprise officer, information security and compliance officer, security and privacy compliance engineer, and security and privacy compliance analyst, to support the overall security of the department's enterprise system.

Act 79 also temporarily exempted a research/health analytics manager in the med-QUEST division, and the community/project development director and policy director in the director's office. The department seeks to continue the temporary exemptions of these positions for three additional years. Additionally, the department seeks a similar temporary exemption of the special assistant to the director.

The purpose of this Act is to permanently exempt from provisions of civil service the following positions: the governor's coordinator on homelessness, five positions at the Med-QUEST division, and four positions in the office of the director of human services. Further, this Act temporarily exempts from civil service the research/health analytics manager in the med-QUEST division and the community/project development director, policy director, and special assistant to the director in the director's office.
