
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO THE SPOUSE AND CHILD ABUSE SPECIAL FUND.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. Congress passed the Family First Prevention
2 Services Act of 2018 (Family First) as part of the Bipartisan
3 Budget Act of 2018, Public Law 115-123. Family First changes the 4 way states may spend and claim funds pursuant to Title IV-E of
5 the Social Security Act. Previously, Title IV-E funds could only
6 be used for foster care maintenance, adoption assistance, kinship
7 guardianship assistance, and related training and administrative 8 expenses.

9 Under Family First, states with an approved Title IV-E plan
10 now have the option to use Title IV-E funds for prevention
11 services that would allow children who have been abused or 12 neglected or are at risk of being abused or neglected to remain
13 with their parents or relatives. States can get reimbursed for 14 certain twelve-month periods of prevention services.

15 The department of human services seeks to retain Family
16 First federal reimbursements and all Title IV-E federal 17 reimbursements to secure a stable source of funding for child
18 abuse and neglect prevention, intervention, and other services.

H.B. NO. 1005

1 Currently, the department of human services is not allowed
2 to retain reimbursements received for a prior fiscal year, and
3 instead is required to deposit these reimbursements into the
4 general fund. The department of human services returned
5 approximately $4,068,161 to the general fund in state fiscal
6 year 2016-2017 and approximately $6,736,894 to the general fund
7 in state fiscal year 2017-2018 in Title IV-E federal
8 reimbursements. The ability to retain Title IV-E federal
9 reimbursements will assist to stabilize funding for prevention
10 services; allow the State to maintain and develop its own
11 evidence based, child abuse and prevention and intervention
12 programs suited for Hawaii's diverse and unique communities; and 13 improve and increase the State's capacity to prevent, reduce, and 14 appropriately respond to the impacts of spousal and child abuse
15 in our community.

16 The purposes of this Act are to (1) amend section 346-7.5,
17 Hawaii Revised Statutes, to allow the spouse and child abuse
18 special fund to receive Title IV-E federal reimbursements
19 received in the fiscal year following the year in which the 20 Title IV-E funds were expended, to replace the term "account"
21 with "fund," and to delete the "department of human services"
22 from the title; (2) exempt the spouse and child abuse special

1 fund from the central service assessment set forth in section
2 36-27, Hawaii Revised Statutes; and (3) exempt the spouse and

5 SECTION 2. Section 36-27, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 6 amended by amending subsection (a) to read as follows:

H.B. NO. 1005

JUSTIFICATION SHEET

DEPARTMENT: Human Services

TITLE: A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE SPOUSE AND CHILD ABUSE SPECIAL FUND.

PURPOSE: To allow retention of Title IV-E of the Social Security Act federal reimbursements received from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, in the following fiscal year from when the expenses were incurred; to exempt the spouse and child abuse special fund from the central service assessment and administrative expense assessment; and to make technical corrections.

MEANS: Amend sections 36-27(a), 36-30(a), and 346-7.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

JUSTIFICATION: The Family First Prevention Services Act of 2018 (Family First), found in the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018, Public Law 115-123, adds a mechanism for states to claim reimbursement through Title IV-E of the Social Security Act for a percentage of state funds spent on certain child abuse and neglect prevention services. On October 1, 2019, states with an approved Title IV-E plan will be able to begin drawing down federal reimbursement funds for certain prevention services under Family First. Also, on September 30, 2019, all Title IV-E waivers will end. The department of human services estimates the end of Hawaii's Title IV-E waiver will result in an approximate fifteen percent reduction of federal reimbursements. This bill is one strategy for DHS to have enough funding to maintain the current level of services and to build programmatic and community capacity to maximize federal reimbursement for certain prevention services available through Family First.

H.B. NO. 1005

Currently, the department of human services returns approximately $5 million dollars of federal Title IV-E reimbursements to the general fund when those reimbursements are received in the fiscal year following the year the funds were expended. Having the authority to retain those funds, the department would have a stable and predictable source of state funds to administer programs and services that prevent or reduce the impact or incidents of spouse abuse or child abuse and neglect. Under Family First, the state will be able to define the conditions of candidacy to be eligible for prevention services reimbursable through Family First. Hawaii has not yet established its definition, however, where there are instances where spousal abuse may contribute to child abuse and neglect, mental health, substance abuse, and parent child prevention services should be able to address issues related to spousal abuse.

Impact on the public: Impact on the public will be positive, as the department of human services will be better able to maintain the current level of services currently provided through the state's Title IV-E waiver. Also, if Title IV-E reimbursements are retained more funds may be expended on evidence based programs that prevent and reduce the impact and incidents of spouse abuse and child abuse and neglect. Additionally, the population that may be served for certain programs and services may be greater than was previously eligible for Title IV-E funded programs, as certain conditions that previously limited eligibility for Title IV-E funds have been removed by Family First.

Impact on the department and other agencies: Family First does not limit the delivery of described prevention services eligible for federal reimbursement to the Title IV-E agency (the Department of Human Services). Potential impact on other departments or branch of government that currently provide services for mental health, substance abuse, and parent-child services, may require future investment to improve data sharing systems and develop processes to facilitate braided funding to maximize the ability to request federal reimbursement of general funds.

GENERAL FUND: None.

OTHER FUNDS: None.

PPBS PROGRAM
DESIGNATION: HMS 901.

OTHER AFFECTED
AGENCIES: Department of Health, Department of the Attorney General, and Judiciary. For the state to be eligible to receive federal reimbursement for state expenditures on prevention services and related administrative expenses, additional prevention plans and appropriate court orders will need to be documented to reflect certain elements required by Family First.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 30, 2019.
