
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO ANIMAL FUR PRODUCTS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that animals were 2 historically hunted and trapped for food, and their pelts were 3 used to provide protective clothing. Over time, clothing 4 technology has developed, making fur a luxury item, rather than 5 a necessity. Fur garments are typically designed for fashion
6 rather than for warmth, and more animals are now killed to make 7 decorative fur trim than to manufacture full fur garments. Due 8 to serious animal welfare concerns, more and more countries are 9 phasing out fur farming and enacting fur farming bans.

10 The legislature recognizes that more than one hundred 11 million animals are violently killed every year solely for their 12 fur. More than eighty-five per cent of pelts in the world's fur
13 trade come from fur farms, while the remaining fifteen per cent
14 of pelts are from animals trapped in the wild. The legislature
15 finds that, especially considering the wide array of faux fur
16 and other fashion and apparel alternatives, the demand for fur
17 products does not justify the cruel treatment and unnecessary

1 killing of animals. Eliminating the sale of fur products in 2 Hawaii will foster a more humane environment in the State.

3 The legislature further finds that the fur trade poses
4 serious human health and animal welfare concerns. Recent 5 reports from mink fur farms abroad have revealed dangerous links
6 between the industry and the further spread of the SARS-CoV-2
7 virus to humans from animals. Additionally, mink, raccoon, 8 dogs, and foxes that are commonly farmed for their fur have been 9 linked to a variety of coronaviruses.

10 The legislature further finds that fur farming can be 11 damaging to the environment and contributes to water and air
12 pollution in multiple ways. Fur farming often involves the use 13 of toxic chemicals, including chromium and formaldehyde, which 14 can seep into ground water and other water sources. For each 15 kilogram of factory-farmed mink fur produced, one hundred ten 16 kilograms of carbon dioxide are released into the atmosphere.
17 Fur farming also consumes significant quantities of energy and 18 water; producing a real fur garment uses more than fifteen times
19 the energy needed to produce a faux fur garment.

20 The legislature acknowledges that existing laws provide 21 relatively little oversight of the fur trade industries.

1 Compliance with guidelines issued by the American Veterinary 2 Medical Association is not mandatory, and fur farms are not
3 monitored or inspected by any government agency. Federal laws 4 prohibit the import or export of dog or cat fur products into 5 the United States, prohibit the introduction of dog and cat fur 6 products into interstate commerce, forbid deceptive labeling of 7 fur products, and require products made with real fur to be 8 properly labeled. Imposition of such requirements for other 9 types of animal fur products would allow Hawaii consumers to 10 choose whether to purchase real or faux fur garments.

11 As human, animal, and ecosystem health are inextricably
12 linked, it is vital for our health, economy, and security that 13 Hawaii, the United States, and countries across the globe shut 14 down the cruel, risky, and unpopular fur farming industry and 15 end the fur trade by banning fur sales. Accordingly, the 16 purpose of this Act is to:

- 17 (1) Beginning July 1, 2021, prohibit the manufacture for 18 sale and importation of certain animal fur products in 19 the State; and
- 20 (2) Beginning December 1, 2021, prohibit the sale, offer
21 for sale, display for sale, trade, or otherwise

1 distribute for monetary or nonmonetary consideration,
2 certain fur products in the State.

3 SECTION 2. The Hawaii Revised Statutes is amended by 4 adding a new chapter to be appropriately designated and to read
5 as follows:

6 "CHAPTER
