Comments: Definitely and when the data is given, please carefully note where the majority of the students fall in this data as far as where they live and what schools they attend. Please also note if there has been an upswing in these occurrences since NCLB and the test culture. Like other places around the world, I think this data will be quite telling.

Please note that testimony submitted less than 24 hours prior to the hearing, improperly identified, or directed to the incorrect office, may not be posted online or distributed to the committee prior to the convening of the public hearing.
